Babies are busy little beings...

Especially for them Bambol® has created the innovative Bamboo baby rocker with its patented dynamic backrest (DBR). This technology enables Bamboo to sense the baby's needs – sleeping, sitting, or playing – and helps the baby to choose their position by adjusting their weight.

This design does not impose a position but allows the baby to change his or her own position regularly which is essential for a healthy development.

The conscious purity of its design conceal its precision mechanics. The exact distribution of elasticity and rigidity over the aluminum frame allows controlled bouncing even with the baby's small movements, while the intelligent patented 3D curve remains stable and secure under the weight of its precious load.

Everyday life experience shows that it is essential that the baby's position can easily be adjusted without removing the child nor disturbing the baby's sleep.
